Dr. Andrea Honigsfeld will address a comprehensive approach to the Integrated ENL Services and explore the following key issues:

- The rationale behind the integrated ENL service delivery
- The four components of the collaborative instructional cycle:
Co-Planning, Co-Teaching, Co-Assessing and reflection
- The seven Co-Teaching models

Participants will watch and analyze co-teaching video clips, discuss the implementation of various co-teaching models to enhance differentiation of instruction for ELLs; and establish protocols for collaboration.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session with Joyce Avila, President of CAFÉ, Creating and Facilitating Equality, will engage participants in a lively conversation focusing on creating an understanding and appreciation for differentiated instructional styles needed in today's classrooms.

Dr. Honigsfeld's new book: Collaboration & Co-Teaching will be a focus of this conference.
